

Fireworks Show Set

Redondo Beach Fisherman's Wharf and King Harbor will be the scene of a spectacular fireworks display July 4, according to the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce.

President Corwin H. Elberting Jr. of the sponsoring Chamber said the show represents more shells and more cost than any fireworks show ever witnessed in the South Bay area.

Atlas Fireworks, sole pyrotechnists to Disneyland, New York's World's Fair, Seattle World's Fair, Olympic Winter Games, Rose Bowl and Coliseum in Los Angeles, will be in charge of the show, which starts at 9 p.m.

Chamber officials say the show will consist of 480 shells and rockets, many of them the multiple-break variety.

Lynwood Man Arrested Following Auto Crash

A Lynwood man was booked by Torrance police Sunday for driving under the influence of dangerous drugs after he was involved in a three-car accident at Western Avenue and 180th Street.

Ted Humphrey, 26, of 5527 Pulleur St., Lynwood, was taken into custody after police were called to the scene of the accident and found the suspect in a semi-conscious condition.

Witnesses said the auto driven by Humphrey hit an auto driven by Patricia Workman, 34, of 1510 W. 180th St., Gardena, from the rear as Workman was stopped at the intersection. Her car then hit a vehicle driven by Dennis Hayward, 2526 Grand Summit Road, which was traveling through the intersection.

Moderate damage was done to Workman's auto while Hayward's auto was reported to be heavily damaged. All three drivers were treated for injuries at the scene.

In addition to hitting Hayward's car, Workman's vehicle careened into a building at 18008 Western Ave. and caused slight damage.

Army Pvt. James A. Rudnick, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray L. Rudnick, 2319 W. 229th St., completed a field communications crewman course at Ft. Ord, Calif., June 16. During the course, he was trained to string wire from the field to the communication center. Instruction was also given in basic electricity, switchboard installation and operation and pole climbing.

Gladiolas may be planted up to the first of July in most areas, to insure continuous bloom into the fall. Plenty of water and an all fish fertilizer should be given the bulbs until blooms appear. After the blooms appear, no fertilizing should be done and the content of water should be cut down considerably.

Thrip and aphids will be attracted to the gladiolas prior to the full bloom. The plants should be checked frequently for these pests. They can be easily controlled by an all purpose spray.

Camelias require very little pruning, but if the plant seems to be out of shape a small amount of pruning may be done before the HOT WEATHER starts, according to garden expert, Dorothy Digs.

is the new leaves that are most susceptible to attack by insects. Fertilizing is the most important care that Camelias require, she says. They should be fertilized once a month with an all fish fertilizer to insure healthy plants and prolonged blooming throughout the season. Careful watering of any shade plant such as Camelias, with an all fish fertilizer to Gardenias, Fuchias and Azaleas, etc., is most important. They should never be allowed to become dry, as this will retard the new growth and the size of the bloom.
